Time to Change the Clocks; November 2nd

As a friendly reminder, the return to standard time will occur on the first Sunday in November (November 2nd). Remember to turn your clocks back one hour.

Many local fire departments encourage people to check and change the batteries in their smoke detectors at home when they change their clocks. It's a convenient reminder to ensure your family's safety. As "they" say, "A working smoke detector more than doubles a person's chances of surviving a home fire."

New Exhibition: Carole Kenny's Art Quilts

The new works on display in the Atrium Providence Art Club Gallery are by Carole Kenny. Stunning and explicit with color and stitching, her quilts are a beauty to behold. She has been an artist member of the Providence Art Club since 1992, exhibiting since 1994. Her art quilts have been seen in Canada, Germany, Korea, Ireland, and Scotland, in addition to national exhibits. She enjoys teaching and sharing her art with others.

As a reminder, the Atrium is open to all building tenants with a building pass. To gain entrance or exit, please swipe your badge at the Atrium door and proceed through the glass door quickly.

Parking Garage Update

With the cooler temperatures now here, please understand that the receiving bay door will be kept closed on a more regular basis. There is a security camera focused on the receiving bay entrance, and as soon as security picks up an arrival, they will open the door for admittance. It is important to know, however, that the parker will need to pull up onto the sidewalk and close to the door in order to be within camera range. If you have guests or clients who regularly use the parking garage, please let them know about the seasonal change.

With the street door being closed more often to keep the cold air out, there will be even more limited space for cars awaiting retrieval in the receiving bay for departures. Certainly, we all understand that something can come up at the last minute when someone is preparing to leave; however, please be considerate of others and call for a car only when you are really ready to depart. If a parker happens to be exceptionally tardy with retrieving a car after it has been called for, they may find that it has been returned to the garage in order to accommodate other parkers.

Kennedy Plaza Progress

As everyone can see out the building windows, the work on the new Kennedy Plaza is progressing. Due to some delays encountered when the first series of concrete platforms were poured, the new Plaza won't be completed for the hoped-for early-November date. They are hoping to have construction completed by the first week in December; RIPTA is hoping to resume Plaza operations by mid-December. Below is a copy of the finished product we can anticipate by the end of this phase.
